

WONDER SHORE

HIKING TRAILS

Embrace the boundless beauty of our rugged coast, featuring one of the few places on earth where you can spot an iceberg from a white sandy beach. Experience the sheer wonder of being immersed in an unspoiled environment, with nothing but clean salt air and the chatter of sea-birds to guide you. Grab a backpack and some good friends, and hit the trails today.

Wonder Shore is a collection of 4 Hiking Trails along the Bonavista Coast from Lumsden to New-Wes-Valley and Greenspond. When you find yourself caught up in the race, going for a hike is a chance to reflect, recharge and reconnect with nature. The beautiful simplicity of the coastline is all you will need. Everything is up close and real. No filters, just nature.

EXIT POINTS

This easy to moderate 9.5 km hike, starts at the parking lot and follows along Cape Pond, crosses a brook to Cape Island beach, and completes a circle. You'll find boardwalks, gravel, beach sand, and three lookouts along the way.

There are two old graveyards from the now abandoned settlement of Cape Island which is an archaeological site. There's lots of bird watching opportunities, whales, icebergs, fishing boats, and even seals at certain times of the year.
